IN DUNSDEN

Dunsden Village Hall,
Oxon RG4 9QG

Saturday 8 to Sunday
9 November, 2014

10.30am to 4.30pm

A free exhibition that tells the story of perhaps the greatest war poet England has ever known and how he came to spend almost two years in the rural village of Dunsden. What was life like there between 1911 and 1918, and how was the village touched by 'the war to end all wars'?
